

FARMERS' GAZETTE.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 29, 1839.

We now have a rain falling which it is hoped, will render the river boatable.

Mr. Thomas W. Pegues is about to revive the CAMDEN JOURNAL. It will favor the Administration, but will not oppose state banks. It will lend its support to the Temperance cause, and contain selections on the subject of Agriculture.

The abolitionists, who in New York have organized themselves into a regular political party, not obtaining a satisfactory answer from either the Whig or Van Buren candidates to represent the city in the State Senate, started one of their own number and mustered two hundred votes for him.

Gen. Charles F. Mercer, long a most respectable member of Congress from Virginia, has been elected the Cashier of a bank in Florida, and the National Intelligencer says, that he has signified his intention of accepting the appointment. He will therefore resign his seat in Congress during the winter.

More than a thousand gross of buttons are manufactured daily at Haydenville, Mass.—Two hundred women are employed in manufacturing them.

The city authorities of Boston have passed an ordinance to punish persons who forget or disregard property so far as to smoke cigars in the streets of that city. A man was recently arraigned for smoking in the street; but it appeared that he smoked not a cigar, but a pipe. He was thereupon acquitted.

Temperance Meetings in different parts of the state have requested Judge Albert Rhett, the Rev. Dr. E. A. Phelps, and others to address the Legislature on the subject of abolishing the license law. Mr. O'Neal and Mr. Rhett have consented to do so, if the respective houses, or either of them should grant the privilege.

IMPORTED LIVE STOCK.—Messrs. Gourdin, Matheson & Co. of Charleston advertise for sale, blooded horses and cattle now on the way from England to this country. If well selected, they will prove a valuable acquisition to the state; otherwise they will prove injurious by making an unfavorable impression on the minds of those who may own and see themselves and their progeny. The advertisement is not as particular as it should be in regard to the stock of the cattle, and their purity of blood.

Some mischievous simpletons, out of sport, enraged an elephant chained to a tree near Port Deposit Md., and one of them approaching the animal was seized in its trunk and dashed to a considerable distance, having his body at the same time pierced through with the tusk of the beast, which caused immediate death.

PARTY TACTICS IN THE TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.—The majority of both houses being supporters of the Administration party, resolutions were proposed instructing the Senators, and requesting the Representatives in Congress from that state to vote against a national bank—for the sub-treasury—against a bill to secure the freedom of elections—against the distribution of the proceeds of the public lands—and, generally, to support the leading measures of the present administration.

Mr. Anderson, of the Whig party, moved as an amendment, to strike out the resolution relating to the sub-treasury, and insert as a substitute the following being the language of Gov. Polk whilst in Congress, when Mr. Gordon of Virginia, in 1834, proposed the sub-treasury scheme for keeping and disbursing the revenue, viz:

"Resolved, That a corporation is much safer than any individual agent, however responsible he may be, because it consists of an association of individuals who have thrown together their aggregate wealth, and who are bound in their corporate character to the extent of their whole capital stock for the deposits; and that it is the opinion of this General Assembly that the heaviest security which the most wealthy individual could give would not make public deposits safe at the point of large collections."

To avoid a direct vote upon this resolution a motion was made to lay it on the table, which prevailed. Mr. Anderson then proposed another substitute, and adopting the language of Gen. Jackson, in his annual message to Congress in 1836 as follows, viz: Resolved that "we have confidence in the ability and capacity of the State Banks to perform all the duties of fiscal agents for the Government."

This was also, on motion, laid on the table to a day beyond the session. Mr. Anderson then moved still another substitute, adopting the language of the Washington Globe, in relation to a sub-treasury, when Mr. Gordon's project, above referred to, was brought forward; viz: Resolved that the Independent Treasury is "disorganizing and revolutionary, and subversive of the fundamental principles of our government, and of its entire practice from 1789 down to this day; and that it is as palpable as the sun that the effect of the scheme would be to bring the public treasury much nearer the actual custody and control of the President, and expose it to be plundered by a hundred hands, where one under the late system could not reach it. In such event, we should feel that the people had just cause for alarm and ought to give their most watchful attention to such an effort to enlarge executive power and put into its hands the means of corruption."

This was also disposed of by laying it on the table. This is the last of the proceedings in the matter which we have seen. The original resolutions were doubtless afterwards adopted.

THE CASE OF THE AMISTAD.—This case was to be tried in New Haven, at a court which commenced its session on the 19th inst. but was put off till the 7th of January, owing to the sickness of the interpreter.

The Baltimore American states that notwithstanding the Richmond and Fredericksburg railroad company have repeatedly published their rule to receive no powder for transportation, it is still sometimes smuggled into their freight cars. On the 15th inst. an explosion took place of powder thus smuggled, which caused the death of one of the hands. It is murder, in the eye of the law, to cause death by carelessly letting fall a heavy body in a street or other place of public resort; ought not death by such an explosion to be punished as murder? The lightest punishment which ought to be provided for smuggling powder into a railroad car, whether explosion occurred or not, is confinement for life in a Penitentiary at hard labor. The crime indicates so great recklessness of human life that the author of it is unfit to live in society.

AGRICULTURAL CONVENTION.—We learn verbally from a gentleman who left Columbia on Wednesday morning that this body met on Monday evening, and elected Col. F. H. Elmore President, and Vice Presidents of whom we have not the names. Mr. W. Aldridge, who first cultivated this Cotton, it is said, raised 3,000 lbs. per acre, this year, and refused $30,000 for his crop of 30 acres. Dr. J. H. Taylor, from 22,000 lbs. of Seed Cotton, ginned 13 bales, of 600 lbs. average; or 35 lbs. of clean, to 100 of the Seed Cotton. Jesse P. Taylor, well known here, weighed 425 lbs. of Petit Gulf, and the same of Okra, in the Seed, and ginned each; the result was 124 lbs. of ginned Petit Gulf, or 29 lbs. to the 100, and of Okra 156 lbs. or 36 2-3 to each 100 lbs. of Seed Cotton. The staple is decidedly finer.

The price of the seed here offered for sale is $100 per bushel, $20 per gallon, and $5 per quart; which accreted to be the Alabama prices.

SOUTH WESTERN RAIL ROAD BANK.—The stockholders of this institution met in Charleston on the 19th inst. and continued in session two days. Among the proceedings reported in the Charleston Courier is the following.

In the course of the reading of these proceedings, Col. Memminger proposed that the documents before the meeting, with the exception of the general statement of the affairs of the Mother Bank, be laid on the table, with the view of referring them to a Committee to report thereon, at an adjourned meeting, which was agreed to.

Towards the close of the proceedings is the following item.

Dr. Ervin offered a resolution that the Directors of the Bank be instructed to establish a Branch in North Carolina as early as it may be practicable.

What further was done in the premises the report saith not.

The suspension of specie payments by the directors was disapproved, and a speedy return to cash payments enjoined.

A committee was appointed on the subject of making application to the Legislature for amendments of the charter, among them that the charter be extended for the term of twenty years, upon condition that the company complete the road to Columbia with one track in three years.

James Rose has been elected President of the Bank.

LYNCHING IN NORTH CAROLINA.—The following appears as editorial in the Salisbury Carolinian of the 23d inst. and may therefore, we presume be relied on as true.

LYNCHING.—On Wednesday night the 13th inst., six white men, some of whom were painted and one colored person entered the house of Mr. Nathan Lambeth, Davidson County, N. C., seized his person, dragged him some distance from the house, there gagged him, and inflicted on his body several hundred blows with sticks. Four of the party becoming somewhat alarmed at the consequences, fled, while the other two remained and renewed the beating, until Lambeth became insensible and fainted.

In this situation the party left him, but, after coming too, he with great difficulty reached the house, and on Thursday night died. It is stated by the Physician who attended him, that he was scarred and lacerated from his neck to his heels, and that there was the appearance of several blows having been inflicted on his stomach and abdomen, the latter of which, no doubt was the cause of his death.

The circumstances that led to this glaring offence were these: A Mr. John Goss, who had formerly resided in that neighborhood, had lately returned from Missouri on business, had deposited with Mr. John Lee between eight and nine hundred dollars in specie, for safe keeping. This money was taken from the desk of Mr. Lee, on Sunday night, the 3d inst.

Suspicion having rested on a negro man of Mr. Lee, he was taken up, examined, and confessed that he, in connection with Lambeth the person lynched, had taken the money, and the greater portion of it was then in Lambeth's possession. This confession of the negro, no doubt, led to the deed which followed. The two persons who were more directly concerned in this transaction, it is said, have fled. As this matter will, no doubt, undergo a legal investigation and as the parties implicated are of very respectable standing, we refrain from making any comments on this outrage of all law, order, and civil liberty.

Since the above was in type, we learn that two of the individuals alluded to above, John Goss and Lee Whar on have fled, and, no doubt, are on their way home to Missouri.

2d. Are you opposed to the admission into the Union of any new States, the Constitution and Government of which tolerate domestic slavery?

Gov. Everett, after some introductory remarks answers "I respond to both of your inquiries in the affirmative."

This the organ of the abolitionists pronounces "quite satisfactory" but it pronounces the answer of Mr. Morton "evasive and unsatisfactory."

OKRA, OR ALVERADO COTTON.—We make the following extract from an advertisement in the Columbia papers offering for sale the seed of this cotton.

"Dr. J. H. Taylor from little more than 1-4 of the stand he ought to have had, gathered upwards of 1,200 lbs. per acre. The following is an extract of a letter, from Dr. Taylor: You must observe, I had not more than 1-4 of a stand, and planted, too, at 5 feet, instead of 3; and yet I will make about 1,200 lbs. per acre. I believe it capable, on the same land, of yielding 5,000 lbs. planted at 5 feet in double rows. If I live another year I will try a hundred acres that way." Mr. F. M. Gilmer of Montgomery, Alabama, from as bad a stand gathered 1,400 lbs. to the acre. Mr. C. T. Billingsley, of Bibb Co. Alabama, from 1-4 of an acre, gathered 1,000 lbs. and expected 200 lbs. more. Mr. Aldridge, who first cultivated this Cotton, it is said, raised 3,000 lbs. per acre, this year, and refused $30,000 for his crop of 30 acres. Dr. J. H. Taylor, from 22,000 lbs. of Seed Cotton, ginned 13 bales, of 600 lbs. average; or 35 lbs. of clean, to 100 of the Seed Cotton. Jesse P. Tennessee.—The Nashville Whig furnishes the following facts as examples of the dignity and courtesy of members of the lower house of the Tennessee Legislature:

Pending the bill to increase the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace the other day, the Representative from Tipton, a member we understand, of the petting-frog fraternity thus delivered himself—"Mr. Speaker; If I were disposed to legislate for the benefit of that breed of dogs to which I belong, I would vote for the passage of this bill!"

Again—By way of amendment to a proposition to close an expensive session of the General Assembly at an early day, the same Representative moved—"That this General Assembly will adjourn sine die when they get ready and not before, any thing in Bill Turner's resolution to the contrary notwithstanding."

Again—Yesterday morning, the proposition to adjourn being under consideration, a motion was made to refer the member from Tipton to the Committee on the Linnæan Assembly, whereupon that paragon of wit, moved a reference of the senior member from Wilson and the junior member from Maury to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances?

IMMENSE PRODUCTION FROM TEXAS COTTON SEED.

Macon, Oct. 23, 1839.

Gen. Hamilton—Sir: I have carefully cultivated the Texas Cotton Seed, which you were kind enough to present to me, and I herewith send you a statement of the result of its production for this season as far as it has been picked out.

I measured off three acres, which I had picked over five times and the following is the result of each of the pickings:

1st acre, 238, 456, 604, 618, 909, 2975 lbs. 2d acre, 442, 506, 593, 624, 821, 2991 " 3d acre, 297, 467, 1178, 942, 938, 3712 "

The third acre was in a state of high cultivation, and will yet yield from 800, to 1,000 lbs. more. The land of the 1st and 2d acres was somewhat worn, but will yield 800 to 700 lbs more to the acre.

When all is gathered and weighed, I will write you, and give you the total amount produced on each acre.

Your obedient servant,

CHARLES COLLINS.

The members of the Editorial Convention, of North Carolina, should at once enforce the rules which they established, and pledged themselves to abide by in honour and good faith, or they should publicly proclaim that those rules are no longer their guide. Besides an unmanly deviation from the prices established, to which some of them have selfishly submitted, a few of them disgrace the press of the State by the billingsgate and ungentlemanly terms in which they conduct editorial disputation. We will not particularise, at present as all our contemporaries in the State are as well acquainted with the facts alluded to as we are; but we respectfully call on those who are members of the Convention either to enforce their rules, and decline all connexion with those who have violated them or to proclaim those rules a dead letter. We are ready nay anxious, to strike from our exchange list every paper that has violated its promise, and deals in vulgar personalities; and we will do so in a very short time, even if unsupported by another member of the Convention. The press of the State is weak enough to be modest and humble, and if to this weakness (a weakness of circumstances; not a natural deficiency) we have the audacity to add slang and malignant vulgarities, our fraternity will be, not only a disgrace, but a curse to honest, well-meaning North Carolina.—Should others have been less observant of the causes that have called forth these remarks, we have those causes "on file," and we will re-publish them if called for: not in our columns of course, but in private circular to Editors.

Newbern Spectator.

The attitude of Missouri and Iowa continues to be rather threatening. Apprehensions are felt of a serious collision. The St. Louis Bulletin of the 31st ultimo, says:—"We mentioned in Monday's paper that an attempt had been made by an armed force from Iowa to imprison the Sheriff of Clark county, while engaged in his official duties; and that General Willcock had sent a despatch to the Governor for orders. We now learn from the Jeffersonian that 'directions have been given to Gen. Willcock to cause the sheriff to be provided with a force sufficient to enable him to discharge his duties, and to apprehend and deliver over to the civil authority all persons who may be found in open resistance to the laws, to be dealt with as the law directs.'"

A SURVIVING CAPTIVE OF THE MASSACRE OF WYOMING.—An Indiana paper gives a history of a white woman who was captured at the sack of Wyoming by the Delawareans, in 1777. Her name was Slocum, and she was but six years old at the time of the massacre. The old lady had adopted the customs of her Indian associates, and spoke several dialects of the language with the fluency of a native. She is now a widow and has two daughters living with her at a place called the "Deaf Man's Village."—the mother and daughters are very much respected, own a section of land, and are very well off in horses, cattle, stock, &c. One of the daughters has been married, but has lost her husband; and the other is married to a half breed named Brouillette, one of the most noble looking Indians of the tribe. It is stated that their house is the abode of hospitality and kindness, and that none of them have the least desire to associate with the whites, or to visit the scenes of civilization.

Another painful lesson, on the great danger of leaving small children alone, even for a moment near a fire, is afforded in a recent occurrence, at Columbia, Pa. A small child, belonging to the upper suburb of that town, was left by its mother alone, playing, while she went into an upper apartment of the dwelling. Returning in a few moments, she found its clothes on fire, and before it could be rescued, the child was so dreadfully burnt, as to cause its death in a few hours.

When politics are the subject in agitation, every body is ready to send a letter to the printer; but no one seems willing to scribble a line for the press when our own state affairs, of the utmost importance to every citizen is the subject of enquiry.

CANINE SAGACITY.

On Wednesday last two children, residing in Burley's lane, Leicester, were left by their parents at home to prepare the dinner, and while one of them was arranging the pot hooks—the other at the same time blowing the fire—its pinafore became ignited, and in a moment all its clothes were in a blaze. A bull-terrier dog, a great favorite with the child, seeing the imminent danger of its pet, flew to its assistance, and at the hazard of burning its mouth, succeeded in tearing the clothes from the child, who, though much injured, is, we believe out of danger.
